

BC Housing—one of BC's top 55 employers—is the provincial Crown agency that develops, manages and administers a wide range of subsidized housing options and programs for those most in need across the province. Creative and responsive to changing social pressures, BC Housing is recognized as a well-managed organization where people are passionate about their socially relevant work. It's different here.

Health Services Coordinator, Short-term

Help prospective & current tenants while you participate in community health & social planning

Fraser Region, BC

In this short-term role (approx. 1 year) you will primarily provide assessment and consultative services to applicants and tenants with complex social and healthcare needs and/or behavioural issues. You will assist in providing suitable housing for these applicants and connecting them with appropriate resources in their community.

You will liaise regularly with regional and community health authorities and, non-profit housing societies. . Your input into community health and social planning as they relate to tenants of social housing will be welcomed.

Your qualifications could be in a number of areas: a Master's or Bachelor's degree in social work, OR a BSN and/or eligibility to practice nursing in BC under the Registered Psychiatric Nurses or Registered Nurses Act, OR a degree or diploma in a relevant field (e.g. occupational therapy or vocational rehabilitation). An equivalent combination of education, training and experience will be considered. In any case, you have a good knowledge of psychosocial rehabilitation principles and mental health disorders, coupled with excellent assessment and diagnostic skills.

Your experience spans 3 years working with a diverse population of people with psychiatric disorders and complex social/healthcare needs in a community setting. Experience in providing critical incident stress debriefing services to individuals would also be preferred, as would proficiency in all current MS Office applications. Eligibility for registration with a professional regulatory body is expected.

Share in the rewards of working with an organization that offers challenging work, competitive compensation and supports the growth and development of its people.

For information on this and other opportunities, please visit our Career Centre at www.bchousing.org/careers.

The successful applicant will be required to complete a criminal records check.

To apply, please submit your resume and cover letter, quoting reference #10-B-28, to Human Resources, BC Housing at careers@bchousing.org or fax: 604.439.4782.

At this time, we will not be considering agency represented candidates. Candidates are encouraged to apply directly to BC Housing. BC Housing thanks all applicants for their interest; only those selected for an interview will be contacted. This position is only open to those legally entitled to work in Canada